Do I have to take the Subject Tests?

- NO if you plan to go to a state college or community college.
- YES If you plan to go to a UC (soon to be no longer required) or private school, you will need to take AT LEAST two SAT Subjects. Some colleges require three.

When should I take the Subject Tests?

- In your SOPHOMORE YEAR if you have taken the course
- DEFINITELY end of Junior Year. You MUST NOT WAIT UNTIL SENIOR YEAR. There is a good reason for that...

How many subject tests should I take?

Taking just ONE subject test is useless. If a college requires Subject Tests, it will ALWAYS BE AT LEAST 2 that are required.

Most kids take 5 - 6, and colleges take the highest scores from different subject areas. You should take at LEAST 2 or 3, because you can take up to 3 in one day.

2 of 2

Which Subject Tests should I take?

Make sure you are taking a class in that subject. Then get the Official SAT Subject Test Study Guide ( the only one with REAL subject tests in it ) and take it. If you score below 550, forget it.

Should I take SAT Subject Math I or Math II?

Many schools do NOT accept the Math I, including UC.

Can you take the SAT Test & Subject Test on the same day?

NO. They are given at the same time, so you can take EITHER SAT or SAT Subject on a given day, but NOT both, and since there are ONLY 7 test dates a year, you need to PLAN AHEAD!!!

How many Subject Tests can I take on one Test Date?

You can take 1, 2, or 3. Each test is 1-hour long, and up to 3 can be taken in one day.
